

VARSITY'S CHOICE

Christmas Edition

As the jingling of Christmas bells nears, many spend hours and days fishing for gift ideas. And Varsity has some ideas for you to shower your loved ones during the festive season.

Flick, Don't Drip

No more dampness and mouldy odour in your bathroom, as Bodyflik breaks new ground in the way you dry after a shower. And your washing machine will no longer be overloaded by wet towels.

Bodyflik is a palm-sized gadget that swipes water off your body after a shower, a gym session or a swim. It is a low-cost, low-tech, but highly effective tool. Bodyflik does the work of a towel with a soft gel blade that gently sweeps water away from your body.

With Bodyflik, you no longer have to carry wet, heavy towels around. Fewer hours doing the laundry are required to keep towels fresh and dry. And that means less electricity consumption and lower domestic carbon dioxide emissions. On a more personal level, Bodyflik saves the time you spend on household chores.

The gadget's manufacturer says Bodyflik removes up to 75 per cent of the water on your skin. And Varsity's trial finds Bodyflik effective – after a swipe or two, your body will stop dripping.

Varsity shares a quick trick for when you use a Bodyflik after a shower. You should first dry your hair with a towel to stop water dripping from your hair, then a Bodyflik will do the rest to swipe water off your body. The whole process only takes a minute or two.

Bodyflik brings good news for backpackers and frequent travellers. It is easy to carry and takes up little space in their backpacks. And there will be no more fuss over drying towels at campsites and hostels.

Bodyflik is a hygienic option as it only requires a quick rinse with tap water after use.

HERMAN WONG

The recyclable Bodyflik is trendy, compact and effective. It saves your laundry time and your wardrobe space for towels. Don't forget it saves the Earth from pollutants and greenhouse gases. For more information, please visit www.bodyflik.com. Herman Wong

DEC 2009 ISSUE 113 | Varsity